Dear Mr. Dulles:

Thank you for the time and attention you accorded me last week. Apart from any other consideration, it was a great personal pleasure to meet you and talk with you.

I am returning the Saturday Evening Post article, which you loaned me. I overheard you tell your secretary to have some photostats made, so I called a place with which I frequently do business on old material, and was able to obtain two copies of each issue, which I enclose.

The article is absorbing. What a poker game, and what a chunk of history! I would very much like to have been there.

I will welcome word of any kind from you in the future. If you have need of any further clarification of my thinking on the subject, I would be most happy to oblige.

Warmest regards,

John Payne
